JEWISH NEW YEAR.

A Day Observed By Hebrews With Religious Exercises.

The Jewish New Year, or Rosh-Hashanah, as it is called, began at 6 o'clock Friday evening. The feast is regulated by the moon and is a notable feast. It comes ten days before the day of atonement.

The Jewish New Year is a time of prayer and was formerly ushered in with additional sacrifices and the blowing of trumpets. A special service will be held at the synagogue at 8 o'clock to-night. Rabbi Moses although absent from the city, has prepared a message for the occasion which will be read by Rabbi Enelow to-night. Instead of blowing the trumpet, as was formerly customary, coronets will be blown by skilled musicians in Temple Adas Israel to-night. To-night ushers in the month of Elul in the year 5662 of the Jewish calendar, which dates from the time of Moses.
